We strategically manage a large national workload through effective collaboration and coordination. We offer the opportunity to handle meaningful and challenging legal work, while earning a competitive salary (plus locality pay), strong government benefits, and a consistent schedule.

WHY PFD LAW'S DISCLOSURE LAW BRANCH: Disclosure Law offers a collegial work environment, where attorneys work on a wide variety of privacy, disclosure, and data protection law matters. Matters include (but are not limited to) the Freedom of Information Act, Privacy Act, data exchange agreements, contracts, records retention, eGovernment, and artificial intelligence. We offer both litigation and advisory-focused work opportunities. For litigation, Disclosure Law attorneys work with the Department of Justice in representing SSA in Federal district and appellate courts. Attorneys should have demonstrated strong analytical, research, and writing skills, as well as sound oral advocacy skills to represent SSA's interests. Attorneys also must have the ability to quickly form positive relationships with internal clients and external partners.
